

TENNESSEN WARNING

NOTICE TO INDIVIDUALS APPLYING FOR A LICENSE, CERTIFICATION OR REGISTRATION

The Commissioner of Health will use information provided on an application to determine if you meet the requirements for licensure, certification or registration. You are not legally required to provide any of the requested information. Failure to provide information, however, will result in the denial of your application. Submitting false information is grounds for denying your application or suspending, revoking or taking other disciplinary action against your license, certificate or registration after it is issued.

Before the commissioner issues a license, certificate or registration to you, Minnesota Statutes, section 270C.72, subdivision 4, requires you to supply your social security number. While your application is pending, the information submitted, except your name and address, will generally not be disclosed outside the Minnesota Department of Health. In circumstances authorized or required by law, however, it may be disclosed to others, including the Attorney General's Office and persons contacted for purposes of verification or investigation. Certain information on the application, including your social security number, will be provided to the Minnesota Department of Revenue at its request. If the matter of your license, certification or registration becomes contested, the information submitted on an application may become public. When you become licensed, certified or registered, all information in the application becomes public, except your social security number, which remains private.

NOTICE TO COMPANIES APPLYING FOR A LICENSE, CERTIFICATION OR TRAINING PERMIT

The Commissioner of Health will use information provided on an application to determine if you meet the requirements for a license, certification or training permit. You are not legally required to provide any of the requested information. Failure to provide information, however, will result in the denial of your application. Submitting false information is grounds for denying your application or suspending, revoking or taking other disciplinary action against your license, certification or training permit after it is issued.

Before the Commissioner issues a license, certification or training permit, Minnesota Statutes, section 270C.72, subdivision 4, requires you to supply your Minnesota business identification number or your social security number, if you are a sole proprietor. Minnesota Statutes also require you to provide the information requested concerning Workers Compensation Insurance or your permit to self-insure. The social security number you provide is private data. Except as explained below, private data will not be disclosed outside the Minnesota Department of Health.

All data submitted on the application, except your name and address, are considered private until you are issued a license, certification or training permit. When you become licensed, certified or permitted, all data in this application becomes public, except a social security number, which remains private.

Certain information on an application, including the social security number, will be provided to the Minnesota Department of Revenue at its request. Private data may, in circumstances authorized or required by law, be disclosed to others including the Attorney General's Office and persons contacted for purposes of verification or investigation. If the matter of your licensing, certification or permitting becomes contested, private data submitted in an application may become public.
