

High Risk Areas for Tick-borne Diseases in Minnesota

Tick-borne disease risk in Minnesota is highest in forested areas within the shaded zones.

Blacklegged ticks may also be found at lower levels in some forested areas outside this zone.

Minnesota Department of Health - Infectious Disease Epidemiology, Prevention and Control Division

651-201-5414 - TDD/TTY 651-201-5797 - www.health.state.mn.us

May 2008