1. REMINDER: SVPN Meeting/Videoconference/Live Webstream: “Stepping out of the story, expanding the frame: Using ACE data to build support for social change”, November 4, 2011

Stepping out of the story, expanding the frame: Using ACE data to build support for social change

What does preventing adverse childhood experiences (ACEs) – including child sexual abuse – have to do with preventing diabetes, heart disease, obesity, early pregnancy, substance use, or improving education outcomes? Everything! We all have a pivotal role in promoting the conditions necessary to achieve the health and wellbeing we seek for our communities - no matter where you work in public health, policy, advocacy, education, social services.

This SVPN meeting will provide you with an overview of the Adverse Childhood Experiences study, how its findings have been used to craft policies and advocacy messages, and the implications for sexual violence prevention work. We will describe the ways in which how we frame the story of child sexual abuse prevention – as advocates, policy makers, researchers, and practitioners – shapes our ability to achieve the change we are demanding. We will also explore how the ACE study has been used to create new frames that support our prevention efforts. We will also highlight how Minnesota is planning to collect and use ACE data – and how that data will be available to you and your organization.

2. The National Latin@ Network for Healthy Families and Communities (NLN), the Office on Violence Against Women (OVW), Minnesota Coalition for Battered Women (MCBW), Immigrant Law Center of Minnesota and Advocates for Human Rights invite you to participate and learn about the issues and rights of immigrant survivors.

Immigrant survivors of domestic violence and their families continue to face major challenges nationally due to increasing anti-immigrant sentiment and growing efforts to have local law enforcement serve as an arm of federal immigration enforcement, which can undermine community policing and public safety efforts. The Department of Homeland Security recently announced that the "Secure Communities" program will soon be implemented in every jurisdiction across the country.

Please join us in this workshop where we will provide information about guidelines and procedures intended to better protect victims of crime and witnesses from ICE detention, discuss enhanced safety planning and immigration remedies for survivors, share advocacy strategies and additional resources, and talk about action steps to engage with local law enforcement, judges and local ICE officials to try to improve protections for immigrant victims of crime.

Presented by:

Rosie Hidalgo, J.D., Director of Public Policy (NLN), Casa de Esperanza

Julia Perilla, Ph.D., Director of Research (NLN), Casa de Esperanza

Special Guest Presenters:

John Keller, Executive Director, Immigrant Law Center of Minnesota

Michele McKenzie, Director of Advocacy, The Advocates for Human Rights

3. Call for Entries: Eighth Annual Art of Recovery

Minnesotans who have been crime victims or survivors of crime and have expressed their crime victim experience or recovery through an artistic medium are invited to submit their art or literary work for inclusion in this annual exhibition.

One need not be an "artist" to enter; individuals of all ages who have used the arts to respond, explore, express, or heal from a crime are encouraged to enter. View the Art of Recovery exhibitions from 2005- 2010.

Interested individuals should submit a completed entry form, brief narrative description and work samples. For full entry instructions, visit: <http://www.arts.state.mn.us/aor/> or call Virginia Padden, Minnesota State Arts Board, at:651-215-1627 or 800-866-2787 OR Alicia Nichols, Office of Justice Programs, at 651-201-7318 or 888-622-8799

Entries sent by e-mail must be received before 4:30 p.m. on Monday, November 14, 2011. Entries sent by U.S. Mail must be postmarked no later than Thursday, November 10, 2011.

Art of Recovery is an annual exhibition co-sponsored by the Minnesota State Arts Board and Minnesota Department of Public Safety Office of Justice Programs. The exhibition heightens public awareness about crime victims and their rights, and commemorates Crime Victims' Rights Week, April 22- 28, 2012.

4. Minnesota Men's Action Network Survey

The Minnesota Men's Action Network: Alliance to Prevent Sexual and Domestic Violence (MNMAN) is conducting an online survey to gain an overall indication of male involvement in ending sexual and/or domestic violence throughout the state.

If you are interested in participating in this survey, please follow this link to the survey: [http://www.surv
http://www.surveymonkey.com/s/BKCJFPF](http://www.survhttp://www.surveymonkey.com/s/BKCJFPF)

We will use responses from the survey to assist ourselves and others in determining the extent to which men are currently involved in efforts to end violence and to plan future initiatives which engage men in these efforts. Three similar but distinct surveys are being distributed to specific groups to get a statewide perspective. One survey focuses on sexual and domestic violence advocacy programs' experiences, one focuses on men's experience, and a third focuses on the general population.

The survey consists of 12 or fewer questions, depending on which survey you are being asked to participate in. We estimate it will take approximately 10 to 15 minutes to complete. Please follow this link to the survey.

Thank you for your time and for sharing your perspective. Please feel free to pass this request on to others you think may be interested.

5. UPDATE: Major Victory in “Rape Is Rape” Campaign

UPDATE: Major Victory in “Rape Is Rape” Campaign, October 19, 2011 by Annie Shields

The “Rape is Rape” campaign, demanding that all rapes be counted in the FBI's annual Uniform Crime Report (UCR), took a huge step forward yesterday at a crucial meeting of law enforcement officials.

The Uniform Crime Report Subcommittee of the FBI's Criminal Justice Information Services (CJIS) voted unanimously to expand its definition of rape in the UCR. The vote came after many years of lobbying by groups such as the Women's Law Project and the recent viral “Rape is Rape” campaign, started by the Feminist Majority Foundation and Ms. in partnership with Change.org—which resulted in nearly 140,000 emails to the FBI and the Department of Justice urging the change.
