Look forward at what actions will be taken together in 2005 to impact:

- ▶ Public awareness and understanding
- ▶ Public Policy

- ▶ Family communication and support for youth
- ▶ Male involvement and responsibility

Background information

Regular meetings for this group began in the Spring of 1999 as an advisory committee to the Saint Paul Teen Pregnancy Project, convened by the Minnesota Organization on Adolescent Pregnancy, Prevention and Parenting (MOAPPP), in partnership with the Saint Paul - Ramsey County Department of Public Health. Initial project goals were to:

- ▶ Increase service coordination and collaboration
- ▶ Increase public awareness
- ▶ Provide learning and training opportunities for persons working with youth
- ▶ Work on policy change

A great deal has happened since those earliest meetings! In the Fall of 2000 several committee members urged the committee to pay more attention to how sexual violence and teen pregnancy are critically linked.

The committee set out on an educational process to learn more about the intersection of these issues and what it would mean for our work with youth - males and females. Over time, the committee was convinced that a focused effort was needed. That led to creative partnerships in 2001 and 2002 with the Sexual Violence Action Team. In early 2003, the 2 groups merged and the project's goals evolved.

The TPP/SVAT was formed to:

- ▶ Decrease isolation of persons working on teen pregnancy and sexual violence issues in Ramsey County communities
- ▶ Increase their access to best practice information and culture specific resources
- ▶ Increase public understanding of teen pregnancy and sexual violence issues and effective prevention
- ▶ Improve public policy related to teen pregnancy and sexual violence issues

Over the years the committee evolved into a coalition. Since 1999, very diverse assortments of more than 75 organizations that work with youth and families have had active staff involvement in the project. The project has worked in a variety of ways to understand teen pregnancy and sexual violence in the context of promoting healthy youth development.

In 2003-2004, the project's objectives were to:

- ▶ Develop, and expand the coalition and members' opportunities for capacity building and leadership development
- ▶ Increase use of culturally responsive, culturally appreciative practices
- ▶ Increase community awareness and understanding of teen pregnancy and sexual violence issues
- ▶ Promote family communication about sexuality and healthy relationships
- ▶ Raise awareness about teen pregnancy and sexual violence being issues that involve males and females and require males, as well as females to be part of the solutions
- ▶ Promote teen health services
- ▶ Encourage schools to implement effective comprehensive sexuality education

New attendees are always welcome, so please come to the December 16 meeting!

Girls Becoming Women: Igniting the Power Within

April 11-12, 2005

Four Points Sheraton

Saint Paul, MN

Now in its fifteenth year, this conference offers a variety of educational and creative learning opportunities for women and men who work with adolescent girls. Including a variety of workshops, panels featuring girls speaking for themselves, creative arts performances, and a book and resource fair. The conference is designed to enlighten, support, and inspire all professionals who are concerned about the future of adolescent girls.

In February the MN Conference on Adolescent Females will have complete information about the conference.

3. 2005 Art Exhibit Call for Entries - The Art of Recovery

The Minnesota Department of Public Safety Office of Justice Programs and Minnesota State Arts Board will co-sponsor an art exhibit to heighten public awareness about crime victims and their rights, and to commemorate National Crime Victims' Rights Week, April 10 - 16, 2005. The exhibit will open April 11, remain on display in the Arts Board office gallery through May 31, and be part of the spring Saint Paul Art Crawl in April.

Minnesotans who have been victims of crime and express their experiences through artistic media are invited to submit work. Submitted work may include drawing, printmaking, painting, photography, video, or mixed media.
