2. Child Abuse Prevention Strategies Workshop, February 21, 2006

Prevent Child Abuse Minnesota \(PCAMN\), with the Minnesota Department of Human Services, is offering a workshop on February 21 from 8:30 a.m. to noon, for anyone interested in promoting April as Child Abuse Prevention Month in their communities. The workshop will be held in St. Paul, but will be simulcast to 13 additional locations throughout Minnesota. Space is limited so advance registration is required. The workshop is offered at no charge, but for a $5 donation, PCAMN will provide a new Minnesota Campaign to End Child Abuse lawn sign.

The workshop topics will include:

- ▶ Empowering local groups to promote child abuse awareness with separate perspectives offered on reaching various communities
- ▶ Skills for promoting successful CAP Month events in your community

- ▶ Marketing to the cause of child abuse prevention
- ▶ Using your packet to promote prevention

Space is limited and pre-registration is required! To attend, please call PCAMN at (651) 523-0099 or (800) 621-6322.

5. 2006 Training Calendar set for The Minnesota Network on Abuse in Later Life

In 2006, The Minnesota Network on Abuse in Later Life \(MNALL\) is sponsoring training and information exchanges in nine Minnesota communities. The workshop program, Building Community Partnerships: Promoting Health and Safety in Later Life, features these meeting objectives:

1. Increase knowledge of domestic violence and sexual assault in later life for all community health care providers and other senior service providers.
2. Identify possible solutions when addressing barriers and challenges faced by victims of domestic/sexual abuse in later life in your community.

Participants will learn about ageism and advocacy, state adult protection services, and the Adverse Childhood Experiences study which looks at early and current trauma and its relationship to chronic health issues and disease. There will be an opportunity to talk about engaging communities to jointly address issues of abuse in later life.

The workshops are tailored for a wide-range of community stakeholders, including health professionals from hospitals and clinics, local public health agencies, domestic and sexual violence advocates, adult protection personnel, home health care, nursing home personnel, parish nurses, faith communities, social workers, senior service providers, law enforcement, prosecutors and other interested community members.

Workshops are scheduled for:

- ▶ March 8, Metro Area
- ▶ April 6, Duluth
- ▶ April 26, Mankato
- ▶ May 9, Crookston
- ▶ May 11, Grand Rapids
- ▶ June 14, Winona
- ▶ July 12, (TBA)
- ▶ August 9, (TBA)
- ▶ September 13, Marshall
- ▶ October, Metro (exact date TBA)

- ▶ November 8, St. Cloud
- ▶ December 13, (TBA)

The cost is $20 for MNALL members and $25 for nonmembers. For more information contact MNALL (e-mail | Web).

6. Civil Society to Launch Minnesota Human Trafficking Watch

The Minnesota Human Trafficking Watch is a group of people and agencies who are concerned about the horrific sex and labor trafficking going on in the State of Minnesota. The Watch will coordinate trainings, conduct public education and outreach, and provide comprehensive services to victims of trafficking in the State of Minnesota. The Watch will collaborate with law enforcement to make sure that trafficking victims receive resources they need to be safe.

Minnesota has become one of the 13 most heavily sex and slavery trafficked states in the nation. The 2003 Innocence Lost National Initiative targeted the Twin Cities as one of the 13 cities targeted as a high intensity trafficking area. The U.S. government estimates that approximately 20,000 foreign nationals are trafficked into the U.S. each year. Minnesota is particularly affected by trafficking because we are a border state.

Victims of human trafficking are forced into labor and sexual exploitation. Approximately 50% of all victims of trafficking are children. Sex trafficking is the most lucrative sector of the trade in people. It involves forced, fraud or coercion for the purposes of commercial sex. Trafficking victims are often involved in industries where they are invisible, including domestic servitude, sweatshops, restaurant and hotel businesses, farm work, construction, begging and peddling, the sex industry and servile marriage.

For more information and/or to be part of the Minnesota Human Trafficking Watch, contact Civil Society, (651) 291-0713.

DMAD trains high school-age teens, male and female, to teach a four-lesson curriculum to middle school youth. Curriculum covers importance of fathers in families, responsibilities of being a parent (legal, financial, emotional) and the importance of making good choices in regards to risky behavior so as not to become a parent too soon. DMAD will be making small changes to curriculum this summer in areas of risky behavior, media, and families to add information/discussion in regards to healthy relationships, sexual violence, and domestic violence. If you work with teens, please consider bringing a group to our Fall DMAD teen trainings. Contact me for more information. DMAD is in the process of becoming an independent nonprofit, hopefully by June 2006. Loss of our DHS funding will happen in July 2006, so actively pursuing all avenues of fundraising. DMAD fundraising event June 10 at Concordia's E.M. Pearson Theatre. Music, song, dance, stories, silent auction, photo exhibit, fashion. More details coming soon.

I'm working with MNCASA and the Minnesota Youth Work Institute to develop training and related resources on sexual violence prevention in youth work, and how to effectively address needs of youth who are victims/survivors. Suggestion: At the next meeting, it would be nice to have a visual — maybe a map on the wall or a handout — to show where the Judicial Districts are. The Judicial District numbers mean nothing to me!
