A health care coalition is a group of healthcare organizations, public safety and public health partners that join forces for the common cause of making their communities safer, healthier and more resilient. Health care coalitions are forming all around the United States to support communities before, during and after disasters and other crises.

*indicates lead RHPC

Minnesota Department of Health – Emergency Preparedness & Response 625 Robert St. N.
St. Paul, MN 55164