Tennessee Warning

For individuals applying for MDH credentials

Minnesota Statute, section 270C.72, subdivision 4, requires you to submit your social security number before MDH can issue a credential to you.

For companies applying for an MDH credential

Minnesota Statute, section 270C.72, subdivision 4, requires you to supply your Minnesota business identification number and your social security number before MDH issues a credential to you. Minnesota Statutes, section 176 also requires you to provide the information concerning Workers Compensation Insurance or your permit to self-insure.

For all applicants

MDH uses the information you provide on an application to determine if you meet the requirements for an MDH credential. You are not required to provide any of the requested information. However, if you do not provide the requested information, MDH will be unable to process your application. If you submit false information, MDH will deny your application or suspend, revoke, or take other disciplinary action against your credential after issuing it.

MDH will not disclose the information on your application to others during the application process. MDH may disclose it to others, including the Attorney General’s Office and persons contacted for purposes of verification or investigation, if required by law. MDH will provide information on the application, including your social security number, to the Minnesota Department of Revenue at its request. If anyone contests your credential, the information on your application may become public. Once MDH issues your credential, all information in the application becomes public, except your social security number, which remains private.
