

Don't delay care for medical emergencies

Hey Minnesota, if you have a medical emergency, call 911 right away.

Minnesotans are doing a good job of staying at home and slowing the spread of COVID-19.

However, data shows that fewer people with stroke and heart attack symptoms are calling 911 or visiting emergency rooms.

We want to make sure Minnesotans are not delaying important care because of COVID-19 fears.

Our health care system is safe and prepared to treat patients experiencing any medical emergency.

If you're having a medical emergency, call 911 right away.

This includes bleeding that will not stop, breathing difficulties, sudden loss of consciousness, or signs of a stroke or heart attack.

Getting care fast could save your life.
